For those who prefer a more timeless, classic interior in their motorhome, but appreciate the many positive attributes of the Pulse, the special edition Pulse Classic was available as an alternative in the past model year. This design variant differs in its interior design from the conventional, very modern looking Pulse. To mark the 90th anniversary of the invention of the first caravan in Germany, the Pulse Classic will be continued as the low profile special model series Pulse Classic 90 with four layouts - two queen bed and single bed variants, each with a different arrangement of the seating groups - and will receive even more features on top.

The striking exterior design with the rounded recessed rear and aerodynamic front of the T-models, the homogeneous furniture architecture, the extraordinary lighting concept and all other components that make the Pulse so incomparable will of course remain. strument panels with chrome rings and an opening window in the T-hood. The "Light Moments" lighting composition is also standard on board.

In the Pulse Classic 90 without the roof lining "Light Moments" is composed of four lighting levels. Each of these levels is assigned a specific task, fulfilling functionality, well-being as well as mood and atmosphere and harmoniously combining with each other as an overall concept. Flush fitting windows are also standard, as is the comfortable bed conversion from single beds to a large bed in the T 7051 EB and T 7051 EBL. The anniversary equipment also includes the striking and incomparable exterior design of the Pulse Gran Turismo with the black cab, the red skid plate, a matching conversion design, a step sill and a silver radiator grille.

As optional extras, various driver assistance systems or components for winter camping can be selected. In addition, the low profile models can be equipped with an optional electric pull-down bed, an alternative engine and automatic transmission. For those who, for reasons of price or weight, do not want to do a pull-down bed but need an additional sleeping berth, the DBL and EBL models can be fitted with the new optional extra "Conversion seating group transverse", which turns the lounge into a comfortable visitor bed.

Pulse vs. Pulse Classic 90: Original or classic always on the pulse of time!

Lovers of classic designs will feel particularly comfortable in the Pulse Classic 90. The light nut brown of the furniture fronts combined with the floor in a chic stone look and its own matching Cosmopolitan upholstery embodies the more timeless, somewhat dignified version of this innovative vehicle compared with the conventional Pulse, whose basic genes score points in both variations. Among these plus points are the lightweight construction, which guarantees a carefree payload even with a four-passenger registration under 3.5 t, as well as the extraordinary comfort provided by the new IsoProtect comfort floor, which conjures up an even vehicle floor without a trip hazard.

About Dethleffs

“Not without my family!” This decision taken by Arist Dethleffs in 1931 inspired him to design Germany’s first ever caravan, which he called the “Wohnauto” (original camper) – all because the ski pole and horsewhip maker wanted to have his family by his side when he went on long business trips. Very few people were familiar with the word “leisure” back then; family holidays were a privilege and tourism was still in its infancy. The invention of the Dethleffs caravan marked the beginning of a new era – especially for the company, which eventually devoted itself entirely to the production of caravans, followed by motorhomes.

The pioneering spirit of Arist Dethleffs can still be felt throughout the company to this day. It can be found in the ongoing development of model ranges, in the countless innovations and, needless to say, at the heart of the Dethleffs camping story – the family. The company has had close ties with Isny im Allgäu since the very beginning and, with its position as a “Friend of the family”, has its sights firmly set on the core values of the brand.

In addition to motorhomes and caravans of the Dethleffs brand, camper vans and urban vehicles for the Pössl and Crosscamp brands are also developed and produced in Isny.
